Goldrush Live at Borders, Saturday 28th April

Steve Lamacq, the Radio 1 Evening Session DJ, has followed local band Goldrush (formerly Whispering Bob) for a while now, and last weekend invited them to play a small gig in the unfamiliar setting of Borders' bookshop basement, following the launch of his autobiography 'Going Deaf for a Living'.
Goldrush cite inspiration from The Band, Nick Drake and Neil Young (among others), and their mellow sound is a welcome relief from much of the overblown, abrasive and repetitive rock common today. They played seven songs, including both from their current double-A-side single, 'Same Picture' and 'No Change Given'. Apart from the final number, a cover of 'Waiting for Superman', all were original, and most were new material.

A hectic summer looms for the band, with slots at Reading and Leeds festivals, as well as their very own Truck in Stevenon. Rumours have even been circulating of a set at the Radiohead concert in South Park. The future looks bright for Goldrush, especially with the powerful figure of Steve Lamacq behind them.

Next Oxford gig: Thursday 3rd May in The Cellar, Cornmarket.
