OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Production Editor
(3 Month Fixed Term Contract)
About Us
Oxford University Press is a department of the University of Oxford which furthers the University's objective of excellence in research, scholarship and education by publishing worldwide.
The ELT Division is a global leader in the provision of multimedia English language teaching and learning materials. Operating in over 100 countries, it reaches millions of teachers and students each year to support the development of English language proficiency.
About the Role
We are looking for a Production Editor to work as part of an editorial team producing market-specific ELT materials for secondary school students learning English in the CAMENA (Central Asia, Middle East and North Africa) region. You will be responsible for developing print and digital items for key titles, working closely with the editorial team, Design, New Media, Production and freelancers, to ensure your projects are delivered on schedule and within budget.
About You
You will have a natural aptitude for editing to a high level of accuracy and you will demonstrate good attention to detail in all areas of your work. Strong organizational and communication skills are essential, together with the ability to manage a busy workload and work to tight deadlines. You will also have good IT skills, and some previous experience of copy-editing and proof-reading ELT materials would be an advantage. You will be qualified to degree level or equivalent.
If your application is successful please be aware that we anticipate that the 1st interviews will take place on the 27 & 28 January 2011.
The salary offered will be in the region of £20,500 depending on the skills and experience. OUP offers a full range of supporting benefits.
Closing date: 18 January 2011
To apply please visit http://ukjobs.oup.com
