As one of the leading English language schools in Oxford, we are looking for someone to join our Host Family & Accommodation Officer

and help to provide our growing numbers of international students with accommodation during their stay in Oxford.

The post entails working with our first-class management team to recruit new host families, liaise with our existing host families, and to place more than 1,000 students in accommodation for periods of one week to as much as a year or more. Our accommodation management systems are highly-developed, and much of the administrative work is done on our computer database.

Most of our students are young adults (18 - 24 years of age), but we also have junior students aged 12 to 18. The needs of these two student types are slightly different and require a different approach.

We need someone to join us part-time on a permanent basis, with a view to full-time work during peak periods.

Directly-related experience is preferable, but not essential. Salary is negotiable and depends on your availability.
