advanced alchemy
Account Manager - Integrated - 17 Telecoms
Salary between 17.5K-25K depending on experience
Advanced Alchemy is an agency you will keep hearing more about over the next few years. Formed by some key players in the industry, we have already secured some impressive clients (IBM, Microsoft, Nortel Networks) and are developing some groundbreaking channel sales programmes. We are now seeking an Account Manager, from a sales/marketing background, ideally with 2-3 years B2B agency/sales experience. This is a real opportunity to influence without barriers in a fast moving environment where rewards and progression are there to enjoy.

LOCAL FOOD

"PILE IN, CHAPS - GRUB'S UP": A PERSONAL VIEW

1. Asparagus season ends about Saturday, 14th June (that's tomorrow!). You want nice thick stems, as at Medley - thin ones, sometimes in shops, are a bit stringy. Cook in a small amount of boiling water for about ten minutes till a fork slides in easily. Eat dipped in melted butter. Best way to keep them in good condition for up to a week is to cut half an inch off the stem bottoms and place them in an inch or so of water in a cool, dark place - changing it each day or so (treat them like flowers). Don't put them in the fridge - it bursts the cells. £2.60/500g

2. Strawberries £3/kg. Also mixed with George and Davis' Ice cream.

3. New spuds (Rocket). £1.20/kg

4. Broad beans. £1.05/kg

All currently available 9.30am-7pm daily at Medley Manor Farm, Binsey Lane, off Botley Road. Latest news on 241251.

2. Rainbow Bridge: so called because of its shape.
3. King's Mill Cottage: the watermill on this site was mentioned in the Domesday Book, and operated until 1832.
No longer standing, it was replaced by the cottage.
4. Addison's Walk: dates from the 16th century but was named after Joseph Addison, poet and essayist, Fellow of Magdalen College from 1697-1711 who was fond of walking there.
5. Angel and Greyhound Meadows: so called after 2 public houses on the High Street which rented the meadows from Magdalen College to provide hay for their horses. The Greyhound was on the corner of Longwall Street, and was demolished in 1851. The Angel stood on the site of the Examination Schools; part survives today in No. 84, the High Street.
6. Parsons' Pleasure: Strangely, in view of the stories of Victorian prudery generally, they did go in for nude bathing - perhaps the cold water kept them pure! A section of the Cherwell (Parsons' Pleasure) was screened off for nude male bathing only and ladies were supposed to de-punt, walk round and rejoin their male companions further along the river. A few years ago, 3 dons sunbathing on the bank were surprised by an all-male group punting through - 2 covered themselves where you'd expect, but the third covered his face on the grounds that he didn't know about the others but people recognised him by his face.
Dames' Delight, the ladies' equivalent nearby, was opened in 1934 but demolished in 1970 following floods; however you can still make out where it was.
