At the Russian Fairytale delicatessen shop on the Cowley Road, Raissa Goutsal has created a small corner of her mother Country.
Both tourists and locals have welcomed this unique piece of Russia into Oxford with open arms!

Amongst the wide variety of available delicacies on the shop's colourfully-laden shelves there are not only traditional Russian foods, but also Albanian, Greek, Slovenian and Yugoslavian products. You can find anything from famous Russian vodka and caviar to traditional Yugoslavian fish Bakalar and Greek olives. There are more than 25 types of Polish meat products available in the store.
Many of the foods available are also suitable for vegetarians, and some of the products are also organic.

For those keen on searching for new types of spirits it may be interesting to note that Russian Fairytale stocks over 35 different varieties of vodka (including the popular new Russian Standard and the famous Gzhelka), as well as Russian beers.

Freshly made Borsch and Solyanka soups are available every day, or why not try the home-made Pirozhki (pastry) with various stuffings. If you really want to spoil yourself you can try the famous Russian dish of bliny with red or black caviar.

There are also a number of unique and unusual Christmas presents from Mother Russia, such as Russian cookbooks in both Russian and English languages, handicrafts including matreshka (the ever-popular Russian dolls - available in large sizes for containing your bottle of vodka or champagne), calendars and much more. For the utmost luxury, there are fine chocolates, or hampers made up for you according to your specifications.

If you have already done all your shopping for December 25th and New Year, don't worry. The Orthodox Russian Christmas is on January 7th, so why not take the opportunity to celebrate again and brighten up the dark mid-winter days of early 2003!

Russian Fairytale customers will soon be able to indulge themselves with Russian cuisine in the Russian restaurant, opening January 2003.

Declared a 'must see' at the Edinburgh Festival 2001, this play, written and directed by
