RESTAURANT REVIEW

India Garden, 129 High Street (01865 251150)

In theory, India Garden has much to commend it: its location on the High Street is convenient, the menu seems reasonably priced and it offers free delivery on orders over £11.50. Sadly, on the two occasions I've tried India Garden, I've been both disappointed by the standard of food and service, and irritated by the attitude of staff.

The first time was a relatively late night pub visit when, let's face it, we weren't the most discerning of customers and would have been satisfied by pretty much anything. However, having waited for over half an hour from the time of ordering for a couple of onion bhajis (in an empty restaurant), we were less than thrilled when they eventually arrived dry and small. The main courses were better, although such an accolade is not saying much) and we sampled a couple of the chef's specials. The Jeera Murgh - a mild chicken dish with cumin seeds was quite nice and relatively non-greasy compared to my Korai Murgh which was spicier and positively swimming in oil. The Pilau rice and plain naan that we ordered were average in every sense of the word. Our bill, including a few drinks, came to just £30 for two, which is cheap, though given the standard of the food, I wouldn't say that it offers value for money.

It was the delivery that we ordered that ensures I will not be returning to India Garden. We'd ordered just over twenty pounds' worth of food, including a couple of appetisers, more main course specials, a panner (cheese) naan which is not on the menu but which they said would be no problem to make for us, and the usual rice/poppadam accompaniments. We were clearly unwell to give the onion bhajis the benefit of the doubt and try them again, as they were just as bad as those we had in the restaurant, and stone cold to boot. Several items were missing from the order and yet appeared on the bill, and it appeared that they'd changed our minds about making us a cheese naan - this was nowhere to be seen, and would have been less irritating - after all, we still had lots of food - were it not for the fact that we stood outside for nearly forty minutes waiting for the delivery which should have arrived within half an hour and instead got to us over an hour later. The man who delivered it claimed to be the boss (something I wouldn't like to have to admit to) and refused us any reduction on the bill. Any apology or explanation of the question, in my experience, the standard of both the food and particularly the service at India Garden is a long way below that of the many other Indian restaurants that I have tried in Oxford.

Staff required for 'Daily Information'

To start between now and the end of April 2004.

To produce web and printed versions of the publications. To make them easier to use, more useful, more cost effective and more profitable.

Before intending applicants send in a 1 (preferably) or 2 page CV of relevant material, see how many jobs you can get against our main criteria below. If you think the criteria could do with some revision, say so and give reasons. Starting salary £15,000 plus substantial perks.

1. Do you use the publications yourself?
2. Do you like arranging things for people? (eg Have you run a group dedicated to something?)
3. Do you like talking to people?
4. Can you read, write, spell and add up? (This probably either means you need at least a 2.1 or a very good excuse)
5. Are you familiar with our main users? (Have you been a member of the Collegiate University?)
6. Are you generally concise (see 'Effective Advertising' under 'Daily Information' at the bottom of the website index).
7. Are you generally precise? (What are the typos in this ad., if any?)
8. Do you use Word?
9. Do you use 'Illustrator' or 'Photoshop'?
10. Do you ride a bike?
11. Do you have a clean driving licence?
12. Are you likely to be around for a couple of years? (The longest serving member was here for 13 years but you can't many them all, can you? Others were here for 7 or 10 years but the turnover is now down to about 20 a year. We had 10 ex-staff at a reunion some 18 months ago. 3 had become medical doctors, 3 are University lecturers, 1 is a marine engineer, 1 is now in Shanghai - and I, regret to report, one of our ex-customers is in a Chinese jail for drug running. 2 run their own IT companies, 1 runs a comprehensive, several are in the States or Australia. Oh, yes - and 2 have been arrested in the Far East (but later released) on suspicion of carrying an offensive weapon, the Swiss Army knife which all staff are issued with.

Applications, in the first instance, to dailyinfo@dailyinfo.co.uk. Thanks.
