OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS
Sales Executive - Police & Online
 About Us
 Oxford University Press is a department of the University of Oxford, which furthers the University's objective of excellence in research, scholarship, and education by publishing worldwide.
 The Academic and Journals Divisions publish books, journals and digital resources for the research, professional and higher education markets.
 The Professional Law Sales team works directly with end-users from the academic, police, and legal practitioner markets on a range of resources published from both the Academic and Journals Divisions.
 About the Role
 This Oxford-based post will be responsible for increasing print and online sales to a range of institutions within the police and academic markets. Working closely with the Professional Law Sales, marketing, and editorial teams, your responsibilities will include discovering and qualifying sales opportunities, visiting key customers, attending conferences, and closing major sales.
 An extremely varied and interesting role, this is an excellent first step for anyone wanting to develop a career in publishing or sales.
 About You
 You will be degree educated (or equivalent) and possess a professional telephone manner. You will also need to demonstrate that you are creative and solution focused, as well as being highly motivated, organised and friendly. Proven experience of developing new business opportunities would be beneficial, along with experience in business to business sales.
 If you fit this profile and are looking for an opportunity to develop your skill set, this could be the role for you.
 The salary offered will be in the region of £20,000 - £22,000 depending on the skills and experience. OUP offers a full range of supporting benefits.
 Closing date - 4 July 2010
