New Media Production Assistants (x2)
English Language Teaching.

We require two New Media Production Assistants to provide technical and administrative support in the creation of CD-ROMs which support the teaching of English as a foreign language.

The role includes preparing assets (including text, audio, artwork, and video) for integration into CD-ROM products; briefing testers on software testing procedures and conducting functionality testing; producing testing documentation and bug reports; assisting with conducting user trialling of software; and general project administration including writing minutes, filing, and archiving.

The ideal candidate will have at least two years' experience working in new media, preferably gained in an educational or publishing environment. A high standard of literacy and attention to detail is essential; good interpersonal skills, including the ability to communicate effectively with members of project teams from across a wide range of departments, are also required. Previous experience in a software testing role or testing environment is desirable.

The salary offered will be in the region of £15,000 - £17,000 p.a. depending on skills and experience. OUP offers a full range of supporting benefits including a final salary pension scheme.

To apply, please send your cv, covering letter and salary details quoting ref 03/058 to: Emma Harte, Personnel Manager, Personnel, Oxford University Press, Great Clarendon St, Oxford OX2 6DP
